Answer: Advanced Advisor Group, DBA: EFS Advisors, an SEC-Registered Investment Adviser and Broker/Dealer, member of FINRA and SIPC (for more information see finra.org and brokercheck.finra.org)

Item 2: Services: What investment services and advice can you provide me?

Answer: We provide both brokerage and investment advisory services to you. Our brokerage services offer the purchase and sale of mutual funds and variable annuities. Our investment advisory services encompass financial planning, portfolio management, and educational seminars, all covered under our fee schedule, discussed later in this document.

We do not provide account monitoring services for brokerage accounts, however, we may periodically monitor your account to ensure the continued suitability of our recommendations to you. Our representatives make recommendations but you make the final decision regarding buying and selling in your account. We impose no minimum account value, however, fund-driven minimums may exist for certain investments held the product carriers we work with

We offer account monitoring for investment advisory accounts and monitor accounts no less frequently than annually. Per our Form ADV 2A and Investment Advisory Agreement, we will claim authority to buy and sell investments in your account without asking you in advance. Custodian or mutual fund-driven minimums exist for certain investments held with our product programs through TD Ameritrade and Fidelity. These minimums vary and we do not determine them. We do not offer proprietary products. Further information about our advisory services may be found in Items 4 and 7 of our Form ADV Part 2A.

Other questions for the client to keep in mind:

Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Should I choose a brokerage service? Should I choose both types of services? Why or why not?

How will you choose investments to recommend to me?

What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

Item 3: What fees will I pay?

Answer: For brokerage accounts, the fees you will pay vary depending on the product you and your representative decide is best for you. Mutual fund products will charge some or all of the following: transaction-based sales charges (which you pay each time you make a purchase into the mutual fund), annual account maintenance fees, and underlying expenses specific to the mutual fund. Transaction-based sales charges create conflicts of interest described in items 3, 9, & 10 of the attached Conflicts of Interest Inventory.

Variable annuity products will charge some or all of the following: mortality and expense fees, charges for particular riders if selected, administration charges, and investment option fees. You may also pay a surrender charge if money is withdrawn from the annuity prior to a specific date. Variable annuities often pay higher sales commissions, a conflict of interest described in item 3 of the attached Conflicts of Interest Inventory.

For investment advisory accounts, we charge a quarterly fee based on a percentage of the account value. We also offer an hourly financial consulting fee option for clients with shorter-term and one-time needs. These fees are described in further detail in Item 5 of our Form ADV 2A and Item 4 of our Investment Advisory Agreement. These fee structures create conflicts of interest described in items 1 & 2 of the attached Conflicts of Interest Inventory. You also may pay fees associated with the underlying investments selected for your account or short-term redemption fees, none of which we receive.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

Question for the client to keep in mind:

Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when providing recommendations as my broker/dealer or when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

Answer: When we provide you with a recommendation as your Broker/Dealer or act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means. We receive additional financial and non-financial payments from third parties beyond our advisory or hourly fees we receive from you. These payments create conflicts of interest described in further detail in items 3, 6 and 7 of the attached Conflicts of Interest Inventory.

Question for the client to keep in mind:

How might your conflicts of interest affect me and how will you address them?

How do your financial professionals make money?

Answer: On brokerage accounts, our financial professionals receive a portion of the total commissions earned for product sales that our firm receives from fund companies and annuity carriers with whom we work. This creates a conflict of interest described in items 3, 4, 9, & 10 of the attached Conflicts of Interest Inventory.

On investment advisory accounts, our financial professionals receive a portion of the total advisory fee you pay us as disclosed in Item 5 of our Form ADV 2A and Item 4 of our Investment Advisory Agreement. A financial professional's portion of the advisory fee increases based on the amount of assets s/he manages. This creates conflicts of interest described in items 1 & 2 of the attached Conflicts of Interest Inventory. As previously mentioned, each of our financial professionals are registered as broker/dealer agents and insurance sales agents, for which commissions are earned for product sales. This creates a conflict of interest described in item 3 of the attached Conflicts of Interest Inventory.

Lastly, other various financial and non-financial compensation also is available to our financial professionals. This creates conflicts of interest described in items 4 and 8 of the attached Conflicts of Interest Inventory.

Item 4: Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

Answer: Yes. However, disciplinary histories can vary. For exact, up to date information, visit Investor.gov/CRS for a free and simple search tool to research us and our financial professionals.

Question for the client to keep in mind:

As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? If so, for what kind of conduct?

Question for the client to keep in mind:

Conflicts of Interest Inventory

- 1) Advisory fee and representative payout calculated on the basis of assets under management: For fee-based accounts, there exists an incentive to take action to increase AUM by generating a higher rate of return for the client, but also by encouraging the client to invest more assets or assume more risk. As a result of increased assets under management, the representative may earn a higher payout.
- 2) Hourly fee financial consulting: Infrequently advisors may charge an hourly consulting fee which would create an incentive to lengthen billable hours in order to increase the consulting fee.
- 3) Registrations as broker/dealer, broker/dealer agents, insurance agency, and insurance agents: Advanced Advisor Group, LLC (AAG) is a broker/dealer that is affiliated with Educators Financial Services, Inc. (EFS). Its advisors are required to be licensed as broker/dealer agents. This allows advisors to offer a wide range of products and services, but it also creates an incentive to offer those products which pay higher fees, commissions and/or revenue shares. Please discuss specifics of the various products and incentives with your advisor.
- 4) Arrangement between ELS and Lifesprk: Arrangement between ELS and Lifesprk: Affiliated insurance agency, Educators Lifetime Solutions (ELS), receives from Lifesprk, a provider of in-home elder care services, a revenue share of premiums paid by clients subscribed to Lifesprk. If referred to Lifesprk by an EFS representative, he/she receives a portion of this revenue share. This encourages the EFS representative to refer clients to Lifesprk.
- 5) EFS Advisors Choice: If you are not investing with the EFS Advisors Choice program, the following paragraph and items A, B and C, do not apply. The EFS Advisors Choice program is comprised of investments selected by an EFS investment committee, actively managed no less frequently than quarterly. There are incentives for EFS or its representatives to recommend the EFS Advisors Choice program. EFS charges certain fees and expenses for using this proprietary program, including the following:
  - A. An administrative fee is charged to accounts with balances below a certain threshold. This fee is not shared with the representatives.
  - B. EFS charges a loan initiation fee and a quarterly administration fee to EFS Advisors Choice clients who take a loan against their account. This fee is not shared with the representatives.
  - C. EFS receives, directly or through its affiliated broker/dealer, AAG, 12b-1 fees, service fees, and/or recordkeeping fees from mutual funds held under the EFS Advisors Choice 403(b) product program and 12b-1 fees, sub-transfer agent fees, and/or commission payments from fixed interest funds. These fees are not shared with the representatives. These fees are separate from, and in addition to, our advisory fees.

- 6) Education Minnesota-ESI (EdMN-ESI): EFS and EdMN-ESI have partnered together to accomplish their joint mission of bringing retirement education to members of EdMN. As part of this partnership EFS compensates EdMN-ESI fees and expenses for workshops, seminars, events, office space and marketing materials. This relationship creates a potential for mutually beneficial influence.
- 7) Sponsorship fees: EFS' firmwide meetings are sponsored by various fund companies, product carriers, and custodians who represent educational materials on their products. Investment recommendations may be made as a result of these sponsorships.
- 8) Incentives: Product and program recommendations are client specific. EFS offers various financial and non-financial compensation to representatives who reach predetermined production goals. Attainment of production goals is calculated based on the dollar amount of production brought to the Firm. All dollar amounts are calculated equally; no business line or product type is afforded greater or lesser weighting than another.
- 9) Transaction-based sales charges: When a completed transaction (sale or purchase) generates a fee, there is an incentive to increase the number of transactions to generate greater commissions. This does not include accounts which are charged a fee based upon assets under management.
- 10) Rollovers: When we recommend that you rollover assets from your retirement plan or your IRA (that we are not advisors on) to an IRA with us, we have a conflict of interest. That is because when you transfer your money into an IRA with us, we will either (a) earn an advisory fee on the assets in the IRA which is shared with the adviser on your account or (b) earn commissions or other compensation on transactions involving the assets in the IRA, which is shared with the financial professional on your account.
